Cliff Rieders Named Super Lawyer 16th Year in a Row

Cliff Rieders, a partner in the law firm of Rieders, Travis, Humphrey, Waters & Dohrmann, for the sixteenth year in a row has been selected for 2019 to be on the Pennsylvania Super Lawyers List. A statement from Super Lawyers indicates that because Rieders has “demonstrated excellence in the practice of law,” he has received an honor that is limited “to no more than 5 percent of the attorneys within” the Commonwealth.

Super Lawyers recognizes attorneys who have “distinguished themselves in their legal practice.” The peer review selection process is “rigorous” and results in “third-party validation” on an attorney’s professional accomplishments.

Rieders has been named as a Super Lawyer in every year since the inception of the program. Cliff is a Past President of the Pennsylvania Trial Lawyers Association, now known as the Pennsylvania Association for Justice. He has served as an original and founding member of Pennsylvania’s Patient Safety Authority, the first in the nation, and served as a senate appointee to that body for 15 years. He is a longtime member of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court Standard Jury Instruction Committee, which writes jury instructions and commentary provided to Judges throughout the Commonwealth. Rieders is admitted in Pennsylvania, New York, the District of Columbia, and practices in numerous federal courts including the Supreme Court of the United States. The attorney is a life member of the American Law Institute which writes proposed guidelines for laws in all 50 states in the union.

The attorney has been recognized for his academic accomplishments as well. He has authored a variety of textbooks and pamphlets on legal topics, and lectured to many distinguished lawyer groups.
