

Press Release

Clifford A. Rieders, a partner in the law firm of Rieders, Travis, Humphrey, Waters & Dohrmann in Williamsport, Pennsylvania presented a program to the medical students at Rambam Medical College-Technion Medical School-Israel on the issue of, “The Intersection of Law and Medicine.” Mr. Rieders’ presentation was a culmination of many years lecturing on the subject of law and medicine and how the two interact. Subjects were covered such as peer review, risks and complications, the value of good bedside manner, how to avoid medical malpractice, what to do about obstructive and difficult patients and many other areas. The program was presented remotely through Zoom as a result of the Corvid-19 crisis.

Mr. Rieders was invited to give the program by Dr. Robert Lubin and Professor Tzvi Dwolatzky, assisted by medical student Scott Ehrenberg.

The Rambam Technion English Medical School program is one of the finest medical training programs in the world. Rambam Hospital has a renowned reputation throughout the Middle East as a leader in care for all the citizens of the Middle East.

Rieders commented, “It is a great honor and privilege to speak to such a high-level group as the medical students at Rambam and to talk to them about common problems encountered by future doctors throughout the world, especially those who will practice medicine in the United States.”

Cliff Rieders is a Board certified trial lawyer, past president of the Pennsylvania Association of Justice, admitted in the states of New York, Pennsylvania, District of Columbia and numerous federal courts including the Supreme Court of the United States. Cliff Rieders is a life member of the American Law Institute.